TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Indian Disturbances-Stoppage of the Over land Mail.

DERVER CITY, Aug. 10.—Although the Indians have been very troublesome of late in attacking unarmed trains and murdering emigrants unable to defend themselves, there has been no attack by them, as far as known, upon the mail coaches, which run regularly both Ways.

The mails were ordered to be stopped at Alchison and this place to-day, by the super-intendent of the overland line, owing to the intendent of the overland line, of the stations: stock being run off from some of the stations; but it is believed that our troops are being so distributed along the route as fully to protect it.

Editors' Convention-The Free Congressional Excursion.

PORTLAND, ME, August 10.—A convention of the editors and publishers of Maine met bere to-day. Hon. Nelson Dingley of the Lewiston Journal, presides. A constitution was adopted for a permanent organization.

The Congressional Committee on the defendance of the congressional Committee on the defendance. ces of the northwestern frontier met here to-day, with quite a number of distinguished gentlemen who will join the excursion. They were introduced to the city government, and at noon started to inspect the defences of the harbor.

Maine Congressional Nominations. AUGUSTA August 10 .- Hon. Jas. G. Blaine was renominated for re-election to Congress to-day, in the Second District Convention, by

McCLELLAN MASS MEETING IN NEW YORK.

The friends of Gen. McClellan held an immense mass-meeting in New York on Wednesday evening at Union Square, and formally nominated him for the Presidency. The number of persons present is variously estimated to have been from 30,000 to 75,000. The Times

(rep.) says:
"The McClellan meeting last night in Union
"The McClellan meeting last night in Union square was very large—one of the largest po-litical gatherings ever held in this City. As a demonstration of numbers it was entitled to all the importance that the Opposition press will claim for it,—and was certainly quite as for-midable as the most zealous advocates of McClellan's nomination for the Presidency could have hoped. But this is all there was of it. The speaking amounted to nothing at all. Hon. John B. Haskin was the most distinguished and most eloquent person who attempted to address the gathering,-and no one of the thousands present deemed it worth while to listen to what he said.

"The resolutions embody with substantial accuracy the spirit of the meeting. It was marked by vehement denunciations of the Administration by virulent abuse of Mr. Lincoln, by demands for a change in public policy, and by unmeasured praise of Gen'l McClellan. No attempt who made to define the position or set forth the principles of the Democratic party.

"This meeting adds proof of the fact, which was already evident, that in this city, at all events, McClellan is largely the favorite of the Democrats for the nomination. How it is in the interior and in other States, is not as yet quite so clear. The Peace Democrats are to have a mass meeting at Syracuse next week, at which, we understand, Vallandigham is to be present. Whether the object of this demonstration is to arrange for putting him on the ticket with McClellan, or to insist upon the adoption at Chicago of a Peace platform, remains to be seen."

The Journal of Commerce (Dem.) says "it was without doubt the most magnificent affair of the kind ever seen in New York or America. The magnitude of this demonstration will command respect throughout the length and breadth of the land. It was beyong compare the greatest, the largest, the most enthusiastic mass-meeting ever held in any country, and it is not to be denied that it places that distinguished officer before the people as a candidate for the Presidency with perhaps as great power and prestige as the nomination of any convention could do. Numbers can hardly be estimated in such meetings. Union Square was packed full."

The World (Dem.) says:
"The rally of the friends of General McClellan at Union Square last evening called together what was by all odds the most tremendous and enthusiastic meeting that was ever held in the metropolis. The great war meeting after the fall of Sumter was supposed to be the greatest meeting held in this city up to that time, and certainly we have had nothing like it up to the meeting of last night, which, at the very lowest calculation, was twice, if not thrice, as large. Net only was the vast space of Union Square densely packed, but all the avenues of approach to it were chocked with the masses of human heings who were eager, by their presence and voices, to do honor to the soldier-statesman, General George B. McClellan. This was not, be it understood, a Democratic meeting, though doubtless many old Democrats were present. It was a spontaneous gathering of all parties and kinds of men who are opposed to the present Administration. The "solid" men of the city were largely represented, and a more respectable and well-behaved crowd was never seen in the city. It was a people's meeting in every respect, and the old party backs were not even present as speakers."

The Sun (independent) thus remarks: "Last evening Union Square was the scene of one of the grandest political demonstrations that have taken place within the city of New York since the days of Polk and Dalias, when the democracy were accustomed to assemble in unterrified numbers. As early as seven o'clock crowds had gathered around the stands, five in number, erected on the lower side of Union Square. As darkness closed in a constant stream of people came pouring in, and long before the hour of commencing the proceedings many thousands impatiently awaited for the orators who were to address them. Bands of music beguiled the moments, interluded by impromptu speech-makers, the blaze of fireworks, the roar of cannon, and the cheering for McClellan, of an impatient crowd. At eight o'clock delegations from the several wards began to arrive, bearing banners displaying devices complimentary to the hero of the occasion, or derogatory to Mr. Lincoln and the administration. Each delegation was accompanied by a band of music, and every man in most of the processions had a Chinese lantern or a torch-the lights of which added to the attractions of the scene. Some of the ward organizations brought huge banners mounted on truck wagons, drawn by four, six, or eight horses, and in some instances calcium lights accompanied the delegations." The Tribune (Rep.) says:
"As day darkened into evening the booming of a gun, music from the band, and the streaming of rockets, gave note of preparation, and by 8 o'clock a mouster meeting of several acres extent had assembled. The crowd amused itself by cheering for McClellan, and its surgings to and fro seemed really fearful. Indeed, the assembiage appeared to prefer hearing its own brogue to the voice of the speakers. To have stood there for three mortal hours in that heat must have been a terrible ordeal, and the pressure was occasionally aggravated by the arrival of ward associations, in their attempts to march to the central stand. The procession with lanterns stretched down to Grace Church, and gave Broadway a picturesque appearance, and they also extended a block or more each way on 14th street. It was evident the meeting had been well engineered, so far as getting together a large crowd was concerned. It is but proper to say, however, that the arrangements of the ward clubs were such, and they were kept so much on the move, marching and countermarching, that the scenic effect was much heightened, which would naturally lead a spectator to greatly magnify his estimate of the numbers present. It was noticeable that the same persons who cheered so lustily for McClelian, and gave such indescribably turious greans for Lincoln, received with coolness the name of Lieut. Gen. Grant. Their responses, too, were heartiest when the speakers enunciated the most ultra copperhead sen-

The News (organ of the peace democracy) expresses considerable dissatisfaction in regard to the meeting, and evidently fears that the movement for McClellan will result in the disruption of the democracy at Chicago and the re-election of Mr. Lincoln. The News charges that the great concourse of people was brought together by the announcement of a long list of distinguished speakers, none of whom were present.

The resolutions adopted at the meeting are not pleasing to the News. It brands as "dangerous and perfidious" the expression of such sentiments as that "the result of a Presidential election shall depend on the popularity of the candidate with the army." But its great diseatisfaction is with the last of the resolutions. The News says:
"This resolution contains an expression that is significant of an intention of in fidelity agains? the Dem ocacy, and reveals a plot to disorganize the party and dispute the action of the Chicago Convention. Resolved, That we earnestly recommend the friends of McClellan to hold immediate meetings in every city and county, and give expression to their views as to the nomination by the approaching Conven-tion, or by the people. Why the people? Have not the people, so far as the Democracy is concerned, delegated to the Chicago Conven-tion the choice of their canoidate? We are to understand, then, that if the Convention does pot nominate Gen. McClellan, his friends will bolt and nominate him upon an independent ticket. Is this good faith, is this honesty, is this not treat on to the Democracy? The war Democrats have again accused the Peace Party of designing to distract and divide the Demorracy, and now we have from them an inti-mation that they will force their favorite upon the Convention or nom nate him in defiance of the Convention. At their earliest demonstration in the campaign, they embody a threat in their recolutions.

This strange and ungenerous proceeding implies that the friends of McClellan bave little confidence in his nomination by the convention, or they hever would have revealed their purpose of bolting so early in the campaign, at the sacrifice of their reputation for

The Peace party, we are convinced, will keep faith with the Convention, in despite of this negrateful menace. It is possible that General McClellan may receive the regular nomination. In that event the Peace party will upport him upon a Peace platform, and none

They at least will make every effort to unite the Democracy and avert discord and division. If the War Democracy carry out their threat, upon them will rest the responsibility of defeat. No independent candidate can be elected to the Presidency in competition with the Chicago nominee on the Peace platform, alticular the competition with the chicago nominee on the Peace platform, alticular threat the chicago nominee on the Peace platform, alticular threat the chicago nominee on the Peace platform, alticular threat th hough it is possible that Mr. Lincoln may reap the ruis of a division."

The passage above quoted, from the News, is significant of the inevitably approaching division between the "Peace Democracy" and the "War Democracy."

An ong the speakers were Hon. Hiram Retchum, Hon. John B. Haskin, F. A. Seaver, Hon. Eli P. Norton, Magnus Gross, Esq., Charles Bartholomoo, Judge Meech, Ool. M. Davis, Wm. B. Murphy, A. Duryre, Rynders, and various others. There was a spand where numerous German rescales. mercus German speeches were made. Among the resolutions adopted were the following:
Whereas the line of policy adopted by the Chief Magistrate of the nation is in opposition to the plain injunctions of the Constitution and his own inaugural declarations, and, under the specious plea of military necessity, he has commenced a system of direct encroachment upon the rights of the States and the people in making arbitrary arrests—in striking down the freedom of speech and the press, and abolishing the right of babeas corpus where rebellion does not exist—in a fanatical attempt to force an equality, social and political, between races naturally different—in disfranchisement—in holding the electoral vote of States subject to his personal ambition, in defance of the analysis. his per onal ambition, in defiance of the au-thority of Congress—and has created a general distrust of his ability to carry the nation safely through the arduous conflict in which it is now ngaged. And whereas what is now wanting to settle the war is the election of a President who will administer the Government in the spirit of its founders, and afford an opportunity

Resolved, First. That the only hope for remedying existing evils is in a change in the Address existing evils are abandonment of its pollministration, and an abandonment of its poli-cy. Second. That the salvation of the country now depends on the determination of the people to elect the man of their choice, and it is incumbent upon and the paramount duty of members of party conventions to ignore all disputed questions of policy, and, in the selection of candidates, to regard the plainly expressed wishes of the masses they are delegated to represent. Third. That success in the elections of this Administration, depends upon the popularity of the candidate with the army, and the final selection must, therefore, fall on one of the great soldiers who has distinguished himself in defence of principles upon which the Government was founded. Resolved, That in Major General George B. McClellan we recognise those sterling qual-ities which characterize the true patriot, soldier, statesman and gentleman, and which will insure an Administration alike elevating to the nation and creditable to the civilization of the age; and while we would not disparage the claims of his brother soldiers, we but reiterate the voice of the million, which comes upon the wind from every part of the land, when we declare him the embodiment of the hopes, as he is the choice, of the American

Resolved, That our sympathies are deeply enlisted for our brave soldiers in the field, and that we long for the return of the day when, by ballots instead of bullets, we can maintain the Constitution and the Union, and restore to our country the inestimable blessings of an honorable peace.

Résolved, That we earnestly recommend the friends of McClellan to hold immediate meetings in every city and county, and give ex-pression to their views as to his nomination by the appreaching convention, or by the people, and that they assemble in mass convention at Chicago, on Saturday, the 27th instant, at 12 o'clock noon, to take such action as may best unite the conservative elements in the coming campaign.

A Pennsylvania Copperhead Meeting im New York—A Secret Council and a Very Pretty Kettle of Fish, &c. The first real copperhead peace meeting in this city, composed of men of heavy metal, took place in Hope Chapel yesterday afternoon. The meeting was as secret as a Freemason's lodge. We learn that it originated with Judge Woodward, of Pennsylvania, and a knot of the peace copperheads of Philadelphia, who resolved themselves into a committee, and invited from various States a large number of the faithful of the tribe to meet them in this city on August 10. Tuesday evening brought a large delegation from Pennsylvania, among whom were ex-Attorney General Vandyke, Charles Ingersoll. Wm. B. Reed, Judge Woodward, ex-Gov. Bigler, ex-Gov. Porter, ex-Chief Justice Lowery, Judge Black and about fifty more of the solid men of the Pennsylvania democracy. The most of the delegation put up at the New York Hotel, and at an early hour they held a preliminary meeting in Mr. Vandyke's room, who appears to be the chairman of the under-taking. With the exception of Hon. Horace H. Clark, we did not notice any New York men, nor indeed anybody from any State but Pennsylvania, visiting the preliminary caucus.

At nearly midnight a portion of the delegation went to the Brevoorst House, to meet, as it was said, some friends of Gen. McClellan.

On Wednesday morning this Pennsylvania delegation was joined by a few of the New York copperheads, among whom we noticed the Hon. Fernando Wood and the Hon. John McKeon; and at twelve o'clock they commenced repairing, one or two at a time, to Hope Chapel. There was at first no entrance open at the front of the building; but they sought a stealthy passage at the rear, going through the alley at the lower side of the stone church. Among the members we noticed ex-Governor Weller, of California; ex. Governor Thomas Seymonr, of Connecticut; Senator Bayard, of Delaware, and ex. Governor Vroom, of New Jersey. The meeting was organized by calling ex-Governor Weller to the chair. Judge Black, of Pennsylvania, made a brief speech, the burthen of which was that the great object was to get Lincoln out of office. His remarks did not please Senator Bayard, who contended that nothing could be gained by pushing one man of wrong principles aside and putting another of wrong principles in his place. He said the Democratic party must assume honest and straightforward peace grounds, or it had no mission but that of hant-ing for spoils. Senator Bayard left the meeting with a look of dissatisfaction, if not of contempt, on his Strong peace speeches were made by ex-

Governor Seymour, of Connecticut, Fernando Wood, John McKeon, and others whose names we did not learn. George T. Curtis made a speech, strongly pointing to Gen. McClellan as the candidate, and ex-Governor Vroom, of New Jersey, did the same, as did also a gentleman from Indiana, whose name we lost.

After the meeting adjourned one man humorously said:- "We have marched up hill and marched down again." It was impossible to detect any visible object of the meeting, unless it was to make a few speeches in a secret council, as an excuse for being here to lay pipe for the campaign, or for the division of the spoils.

It is a noticeable fact that there were very few New York politicians at this secret conclave. The New Yorkers generally seeds to clave. The New Yorkers generally see. to look upon the whole affair as a pretty piece of impudence on the part of the Philadelphians. One roaring copperhead from Kings county said, loud enough to be heard by haif the people in the hall of the hotel. "Vandyke, Reed and Woodward have three or four times been nvited to peace conferences in this city, but they never came; that, however. was when there were no spoils in sight; but now they snuff the spoils and plunder of a successful campaign, and they fly here as fast as vultures at the smell of fresh blood." Another remarked that he "had heard that Judge Woodward wanted to make a bargain with McClellan for wanted to make a bargain with McCirlian for be collector of Philadelphia, and Reed was patting in for the mission to the Court of St. James." And the members inside seemed to be as much in the dark as to what they were there for as the outsiders were.

The meeting adjourned at 5 o'clock, having been in session five hours.—New York Herald,
